pulleys, strings and wires attached to the trigger of an old shotgun yesterday ng caused the death of his son-in-Frederick Bergmann, at South Police Headquarters at Stapleton. He refused to see any one since he was locked up, and will not talk about the shooting at all.

Burke passed an apparently comfortanight, sleeping soundly. This morning he ate a hearty breakfast, and if ind was at all troubled he did not show it by his actions. He will have a preliminary hearing to-day before Justice John Vaughn, at Rosebank.

The prisoner has been before Justice Vaughn many times for drunkenness, and once last Fall for threatening the life of the man who met such a horrible death yesterday.

He has managed to escape punishment for his many misdemeanors heretofore, as his old wife, his daughter and his son-in-law have pleaded for him.

It is common gossip that Burke was in the habit of beating his wife, and it is said that he treated his daughter, who of yesterday made a widow, in the same brutal fashion.

Neither his wife nor his daughter has visited him since he was locked up.

and 218 William street, to-day. Tweive boys, also employed in the place, went out in sympathy with the locked-out hands.

It was said by Foreman David Symes and William Kelly, Chairman of the Union Chapel, that William B. Keller, the owner and manager of the concern, had agreed with the Executive Committee of t. e Union on Aug. 6 to employ union men only and pay the scale of No. 6. This was after a strike which lasted but four hours, and arose out of the employment of William Tully, of Brooklyn, as foreman.

Mr. Keller said that he had endeavored to make his place a union office, and in order to do so desired some concessions which the Executive Committee had promised. He objected to paying beginners on typesetting machines 20 a week, as required by the union scale, and when he was told by the Executive Committee that the matter of concessions would have to be referred to a meeting of the Union, he conclude, that none would be made, and he engaged a full force of non-union men and women to take the place of his old hands. William Tully was also re-engaged as foreman.

When the old hands went to work this morning they were told that they were not wanted, and the new force took their places.

not wanted, and the new force took their places.

There was no trouble. The old hands reported to the Executive Committee. The Union will take some action in the matter at its next meeting.

Mr. Keller claims to have engaged all his new hands at union wages, except to the cases of beginners on machines, who will be required to work by the piece.

THIS IS THE DOY WHO SWORK The pretty little town and its environs were very much stirred over Mr. court of Squire Heath, in the back of his drug-store was packed with curiously interested throng.

It seems that a little while ago "Patsy" Burns and "Scrappy" Mul-doon started a merry-go-round in a vacant lot hear the railway station.

The town was roused by the unusual attraction, and the horses, charlots, camels and elephants spun around until far in the night. The patronage being fun, there consequently was some noise. The sob-r dwellers in the neighbor-Dixen, twenty-three years old; Paniel Garnge, sixteen years old and Christian hood objected to the racket, and finally some one wrote anonymously a letter of complaint to the Board of Improvement.
The Board of Improvement in Hackensack is the Mayor and Common Council rolled into one, so far as the New York mind can grasp its important authoric Constable Michael Breen was appointed guardian of the peace at that turb erty. This is all a matter of evidence and copfession.

On the night of Aug. II, which was a Saturday Constable Breen says he saw Mr. Berry in the act of tickling the exposed necks of the girls who rode on the merry-go-round and swept by the offender. According to the constable story, he remonstrated with Mr. Berry and finally expelled him from the grounds occupied by the merry-go-round. Mr. Berry swears that Constable Breen kicked him and made a complaint before Squire Heath to that effect. The Squire heard the case and bound the constable over to the Bergea County Grand Jury in $50 ball. Frank Murray, a stone-cutter, went on the constable's bond, and there that part of the case stands, as the Grand Jury has not met since.

The constable, now thoroughly aroused and indignant, entered proceedings against Mr. Berry for swearing. He swore that Berry swore when he put him off the grounds eccupied by the merry-go-round, and this is the salient teature of Section 6 of the Disorderly act under which the complaint was Thinks a Bunco Man Fired a Barn PUTNEY, Vt., Aug 17 .- Dennison Dais, a wealthy farmer who lives near here, claims that he was robbed of $6,000 here, claims that he was robbed of $6,000 while his barn was burning last night. Davis went to Brattleboro Monday and obtained $5,000 on a note. He says that a few days before he made the acquaintance of a stranger, with whom he was to engage in a business enterprise, and the money was to be used in starting

Charge of Grand Larceny.

James J. Winn, a bartender, twentyfour years old, of 23 Ellery street, Brooklyn, was held in $1,000 for trial on a charge of grand larceny by Justice Feitner, in Essex Market Court, to-day, Winn hired a horse and carriage, valued at $300, from Joseph Kaplan, of 54 Allen street on Aug. 6 last and failed to return them.

Winn was arrested in Coney Island yesterday, and he claimed that the carriage broke down on his way to Coney Island, and that he was afraid to tell Kaplan about it. Kaplan found the carriage abandoned on the road to Coney Island and also found his horse at work there.

merry-go-round, "Ab, there, Maud! Where are you going, Mamie?" and the like.

The Justice, however, insisted on testing the point of venue, and it came out that the ground where the merry-go-round was located was private property, not used for permanent show purposes, and, therefore, not a public place.

That settled it. Since young Berry could not have been heard two yards away when he employed the terrible word of which the constable complained, and the site was not a public place, the magistrate could do nothing more than dismiss the case.

He took occasion however, to remind young Perry of his prominent position in the society of Hackensack, and to warn him against further indulgence, under his breath though it might be, in language improper for the cars of ladies and respectable persons.

Young Berry was found at the County Clerk's office at work upon some of his law business. He was very good humored over the event and laughed at the charges against him.

He denied having tickled the girls' necks or having said a had word to the constable, and declined to say whether or not he would press his case against fireen before the Grand Jury.

A little while ago James H. Van Blarcom, known as the "Swearing Dominie," was sent to jail in Hackensack for two months. Van Blarcom, who used to be a preacher and now runs a distillery, sot mad and swore for twenty minutes. Justice Cummins sent him up, as recorded.
